This tool is for budgeting and discovery, not a hard estimate.

The pricing quoted is based on the MayeCreate pricing structure. We're a small company in the Mid-West. We're not a startup, we've been around for over a 10 years. Our pricing is comparative to other companies like us in our area.

So if you're out on the coasts or in a big city this price may seem super low (which is cool because with this thing called the internet we can still build you a rockin site from where we are for the same low price). And if you've been talking to freelancers or start-up companies our price may seem too high. So it's not a perfect estimate but a tool to help you in your discovery process.
